Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-22	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	8-12, 15-22	YES
	Claims	1-7, 13, 14	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-22	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: KR 20-300243 Y1 (24 Dec. 2002)

D2: KR 96-24114 A (20 July 1996)

D3: JP 11-512989 A (09 Nov. 1999)

1. Novelty and Industrial Applicability

Claims 1-22 meet the criteria for novelty and industrial applicability set out in PCT Article 33(2) and (4).

2. Inventive Step

1. The condensate removal unit comprising an inlet, an outlet, and a drain port, as set forth in claim 1 of the present application, corresponds to the condensate water trap comprising an inlet pipe, an outlet pipe and a condensate water discharge pipe, as shown in Fig. 14 of D1. Therefore, it would be obvious to a person skilled in the art to derive the technical features of claim 1 from those of D1, thereby arriving at the invention claimed in claim 1.

2. The funnel-shaped condensate removal unit, as set forth in claim 2 of the present application, is the same as illustrated in Fig. 14 of D1. The valve for closing, as set forth in claim 3 of the present application, corresponds to the condensate water discharge valve of D1. The valve which is selectively opened, as set forth in claim 4, is obvious to a person skilled in the art. The controller and the controller panel, as set forth in claims 5 and 6, correspond to the controller and the controller panel of D1. Claim 7 is characterized by the condensate removal unit arranged near the oxygen discharge nozzle, and claim 13 is characterized by the transfer line of 1m or longer. Said technical features of claims 7 and 13 can be obtained merely by a design change or a numerical limitation which can be readily made according to the characteristics of the concerned apparatus.

Box V.

Therefore, it would be obvious to a person skilled in the art to derive the technical features of claims 2-7 and 13 from the teaching of D1, thereby arriving at the invention claimed in said claims.

3. The first housing and the second housing as set forth in claim 14 correspond to the condensate water trap and the sterilizer of D1 which are connected to each other. Therefore, it would be obvious to a person skilled in the art to derive the technical features of claim 14 from the teaching of D1, thereby arriving at the invention claimed in claim 14.

4. However, the technical features disclosed in claims 8-12 and 15-22 are not disclosed in D1; nor are they obvious to a person skilled in the art.

5. D2 relates to a vapor-liquid separator of a freezing machine. D3 relates to a ventilator for a vehicle. The subject matters of said documents are different from the condensate removal unit as set forth in claims 1 and 14 of the present application.

6. In conclusion, the apparatus for supplying an oxygen-rich gas claimed in claims 1-7, 13 and 14 can be readily invented by a person skilled in the art, and the apparatus for supplying an oxygen-rich gas claimed in claims 8-12, 15-22 cannot be readily invented by a person skilled in the art.
